

Short term disability insurance

Disability insurance covers a part of your income, so you can pay your bills if you're injured or sick and can't work.

Disability is more common than you might realize, and people can be unable to work for all sorts of different reasons. In fact, many disabilities are caused by illness, including common conditions like heart disease and arthritis. However, most disabilities aren't covered by workers' compensation.

Who is it for?

If you rely on your income to pay for everyday expenses, then you should probably consider disability insurance. It ensures that you'll receive a partial income if you're injured or too sick to work.

What does it cover?

Most disability insurance pays out a portion or percentage of your income if you're diagnosed with a serious illness or experience an injury that prevents you from doing your job.

Why should I consider it?

Accidents happen, and you can't always anticipate if or when you'll become sick or injured. That's why it's important to have a disability policy that helps you pay your bills in the event of being unable to collect your normal paycheck.

You will receive these benefits if you meet the conditions listed in the policy.

Replacing income

Mike injures his back in a bicycle accident and can't work for 13 weeks.

Unpaid time off work: 13 weeks

Elimination period: 1 week

After a 1-week elimination period following his accident, Mike's Guardian Short Term Disability policy kicks in and replaces $400 of his weekly income for the remaining 12 weeks of his rehabilitation.

This gives him a total of $4,800 to cover his expenses while he's unable to work.
